For Immediate Release

SABIS® is committed to providing students in its global network of schools with a world-class education that facilitates their pursuit of higher education. To this end, SABIS® students follow the comprehensive SABIS® Educational System through which they gain a solid foundation of knowledge, skills, and experiences that prepare them to gain admission to, and excel in, top universities.

Demonstrating the organization's success in effectively preparing students for entry to institutions of higher education, graduates from SABIS® member schools in 2011 were accepted to some of the most prestigious colleges and universities worldwide, including 49% of the world's top 200 universities as ranked by the U.K. Times Educational Supplement.

SABIS®'s 2011 graduates were accepted to an impressive 200 colleges and universities in the U.S. including Brown University, California Institute of Technology, Duke University, Harvard University, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Rice University, Stanford University, University of Michigan, and Yale University, among others.

Balancing out the acceptances to U.S. institutions were acceptances to study in the U.K., where SABIS® 2011 graduates gained entry to 90 colleges and universities including Durham University, Imperial College London, King's College London, the London School of Economics, University of Cambridge, University of Exeter, University of Liverpool, University of Oxford, and University of Warwick, among many others. Similarly, in Canada, SABIS® graduates of 2011 were accepted to several top institutions including McMaster University, McGill University, Queen's University, University of British Columbia, University of Toronto, and 17 others.

Additionally, Class of 2011 members were accepted to dozens of colleges and universities in another 30 countries spanning four continents including University of Queensland in Australia, University of Vienna in Austria, American University in Cairo in Egypt, Frankfurt School of Finance and Management in Germany, American University of Beirut in Lebanon, the Korea Advanced Institute of Science and Technology in Korea, Georgetown University-School of Foreign Service in Qatar, Erasmus University in the Netherlands, and Zayed University in the U.A.E.

The SABIS® 2011 college and university acceptances illustrate continued success in preparing students with the knowledge and skills they need in order to gain admission to the world's best colleges and universities.
